Summary Profile

A law graduate of the Faculty of Law (English Division) with an overall grade of Very Good, bringing over 10 years of combined judicial and legal experience. This includes service as both a Public Prosecutor and a Judge, prior to transitioning into private legal practice in Dubai. The practice is distinguished by a unique dual-perspective approach to litigation, combining judicial reasoning with strategic advocacy. Widely recognized for delivering practical, risk-focused, and watertight legal advice, supported by deep expertise in both procedural and substantive law.

Experience

Since 2025, Mohamed has been serving as a Senior Associate in Dispute Resolution (Litigation) at M&Co Legal, where they advise and represent clients in complex Litigation disputes (Criminal-Civil-Commercial), developing litigation strategies informed by deep judicial insight into court tendencies and decision-making patterns. Prior to this, Mohamed served as a Primary Court Judge for three years, presiding over civil and criminal matters and issuing reasoned judgments based on applicable law and careful evidence assessment, gaining extensive exposure to courtroom advocacy, procedural compliance, and judicial discretion.

Earlier in his career, Mr. Mohamed spent seven years as a Public Prosecutor in Egypt, conducting investigations, evaluating evidence, and prosecuting criminal cases before various court levels, thereby building a strong foundation in legal analysis, charge framing, and evidentiary assessment. This combination of prosecutorial, judicial, and private practice experience equips Mohamed with a unique dual-perspective approach to litigation and dispute resolution, enabling him to deliver practical, risk-focused, and highly strategic legal advice.
